The Border Consortium (TBC) is an international organization that aims to improve the lives of people living in areas affected by conflict and displacement. TBC works with local partners to provide humanitarian aid, support refugees, and promote peace and stability. TBC’s projects are funded by a combination of donor contributions and the sale of products made by refugees and other displaced people. TBC’s work is based on the principle of human rights and the promotion of sustainable development. TBC works with a range of partners, including governments, NGOs, and businesses, to achieve its goals. TBC’s projects are designed to be inclusive and to benefit all members of the community, regardless of their background or circumstances.
